UPDATE: With the new CloudFlare Page Rules, a domain that got hacked can now get hacked again with a simple copy/paste URL which will then bring you to the hacked landing page. Of course, this is not a personal attack on any of the domains on this list, but if you're in a similar position, it's a nice security feature to install on your site. We went ahead and made this list for you. Thank you for your patience while we get this straightened out. How this list was put together This list was put together by our professional hackers who scan the internet 24/7 to find vulnerable sites. Since this list was put together, a lot of sites have been fixed, but we will continue to check sites as more are added and more are removed because of them getting fixed. This is a very, very large list and is updating as we speak. If you're looking for a more recent list of vulnerable sites, click here to go to our current "Blacklist" list. Please note, this list has been done with great care and attention to detail. We have carefully listed and labeled every single site that has been hacked since last month and have double verified every site to make sure they are vulnerable. You can be sure that we've done all we can to give you the best possible list. This is a very fast growing list and will continue to grow as more are added to it. Please note, if you were to use this list for any malicious purposes, such as phishing or spamming, you will be violating our terms and conditions. This list is NOT safe to use for anything malicious and we will be reporting it to credit card agencies and other agencies to help find you and give you a big fine. We've been very patient in this list so we don't want a bunch of replies saying "stop hacking my site!" and "I have an admin password to fix this list!". Those people are free to use our site once it's fixed and know that we won't be hacking their site on our part. We have no problem listing how to fix it, but that doesn't mean you will be able to hack it back. This entire list has been verified by "professional" hackers as being vulnerable
